

LYNN SOEHNER SCA CFS

tigereyecan@gmail.com www.lynnsoehner.com

Born and educated in Toronto, Ontario, Lynn Soehner is an internationally known professional artist whose paintings in acrylic are recognized for being graphically bolder with rich, exotic colors, offering a kind of cadence or rhythm which evokes the "Spirit of Place".

Soehner's work is frequently used on products and in magazines to convey the "feeling" of the location. Her work has been featured most recently in Kauai Magazine, Summer Edition, 2003, a cover on the Kauai Visitor Guide, October 2003, selected for the cover of Malie Kai Chocolates, 2004-2009 (available in high end stores throughout Hawaii, Continental USA, Canada and Japan), the cover of Poetry Canada, Spring 2005, article in Spirit of Aloha, May/June 2005 and March 2008, on the cover of "The Future Looks Bright", published 2006, Toronto Star September 4, 2006, Fine Art Connoisseur December 2006, featured image of Cornerstone52 Foundation 2007-2009, featured image of Ontario Ministry of Investment and Trade 2007, cover "The Poetry of Peace" publication 2009, and David Noble's 2degreesC Tour across Canada 2009. She is one of twenty-five contemporary artists who formed the group known as Arctic Quest that embarked on a spiritual journey to the Arctic in July 2006, celebrating the crossing of the northwest passage 100 years later .
